

It was how much?

You probably thought that you had to use a main dealer workshop to service your vehicle. A reasonable thought, since you spent good money on it in the first place, and the same dealer who sold it to you can also service it. Feels a safe bet, doesn't it, but at what price?

The main cost is in the software that's used to perform the diagnostic checks. Until recently, this was only available from the manufacturers.

Now you have a choice!

Autologic® is a diagnostic tool that matches the performance of main dealer software and enables independent workshops to carry out full dealer level servicing at local garage prices. Software is currently available for BMW, Mercedes-Benz, Land Rover and Jaguar with Volvo being launched in 2005.

More and more independent workshops are investing in Autologic. So now you can use a local, independent garage, have your car serviced with confidence, and save on the bills!

Also available, Autologic® Power Upgrade for Land Rover Diesels – more power, more engine flexibility and increased towing power!
